in Sustainable Urban

Planning and

Management: A

Global Perspective,

explores and

illustrates the capacity

that geo-information and GIS have to inform practitioners and other participants in the processes of the planning and management of urban regions. The first part of the book addresses the concept of sustainable urban development, its different frameworks, the many ways of measuring sustainability, and its value in the urban policy arena. The second part discusses how urban planning

can shape our cities,
examines various
spatial configurations
of cities, the spread of activities, and the demands placed on different functions to achieve strategic objective. It further focuses on the

competitive Turkey

advantage shifts from tourism resources

only (destination

marketing) to a

location-based or city-

management (place marketing). In this book, tourism

scholars Metin Kozak

and Seyhmus Baloglu

discuss and

synthesize theories, models, techniques, and principles for strategic marketing and management of tourist destinations, and demonstrate ways in which to further develop the concept of destination competitiveness for application within these destinations. The authors highlight the need for equity, tourist experience, and information systems, as well as involving internal and external stakeholders in strategic planning and implementation. This book offers practical information directly related to the tourism industry, using the examples of real-
